

N° 80 Les Marlères

ESTIALESCQ

WALKING

Les Marlères trail is ideal for a family outing and packed with treasures. Walking to a belvedere over the Pyrenees as you learn all sorts of things from panels in the shade of the tall beech and oak trees is, no doubt about it, a truly enjoyable experience.

À ne pas manquer

- Belvedere. Belvedere on Pic d'Anie and viewfinder table on the peaks.
- Arboretum de Payssas. The Arboretum de Payssas is a few minutes away and the wealth of its majestic tree species is worth the detour.
- Les Marlères. Les Marlères were quarries where limestone rock came to the surface. It was extracted using picks then transported by horse and cart to private kilns processed in lime.

Étapes

Step 1. Descent. From Olorons' station, take the way "all directions" and follow "Pau". At the roundabout take direction of "Lasseube" (RD 24) and do the same at the next too. Cross the village of Goès and continue in direction of "Estialescq". Turn carefully on the left at the sign "Bienvenue en terroir de Jurançon". The parking is the departure of the village. Take the path that starts right of the piste near the picnic tables. The winding path slopes down slightly among the chestnut and oak trees. Leave the main track on the left and go down to the embankment. Go up two bends on a headland.

Step 2. Viewfinder table. Go right on a downhill path then up the ridge on a craggy and pebbly trail. Pass by the birch trees and come out on top of the hill. Head for the track and viewfinder table. The Pyrenees mountains come into view.

Step 3. Along the Pyrenees. Go down the dirt path on the left until you reach the edge of the woods.

Step 4. To the lime kilns. Take a right on the first left-hand path. At the bottom of the descent (careful it can be slippery when damp!). Cross the railing-less bridge and turn right then go back up the left-hand trail. Pass the former quarry and go down until a fo

Step 5. Back to the car park. Follow the left-hand path and go back up slightly then pass the crossing to hook back up with the piste. Take a right to reach the start point.
